region STETTIN LAGOON

The Stettin Lagoon region is located in the south of the district of Vorpommern-Greifswald, between the metropolises of Berlin and Stettin, named after the second largest lagoon of the Baltic Sea.

Situated in nature reserves, characterized by meadows, forests, agricultural use, rivers, lakes and the Stettiner Haff Nature Park, the landscape offers optimal local recreational opportunities. Well-preserved village structures with regional charm as well as small, historic towns dominate the Stettin Lagoon region. The road and rail network is well developed and supra-regionally connected.

In addition to a close-to-nature, quiet location and attractive residential locations, the region offers a wide range of cultural, sport and leisure activities for the whole family.

WELCOME to our region

Welcome to the Stettin Lagoon region – together with our colleagues from Greifswald, we are pleased to support you in arriving in the district of Vorpommern-Greifswald.

Profit from our local expertise – free of charge. We are easing your career entry and support you and your family in your lifestyle in settling down.

Our Welcome Center is the central point of contact for incomers from Germany and abroad and for regional businesses seeking to win new employees.

By way of personal and confidential mentoring you receive individual help and support. With our strong partners and our effective network we provide the contacts you need to regional actors and institutions.
